Dear Friends,

As I write this letter July is fast approaching and we will all be delighted to welcome Pauline back into the fold on the 1st July from her three months sabbatical.

During the past three months our Parish Churches have continued to be active, welcoming new families through Baptism, young couples through the celebrations of their weddings and by supporting families in the testing times of funeral services. Alongside all of this our weekly services have continued to run with the help and assistance of clergy throughout the parish and the deanery. So, despite the fact that we are told that our rural churches are struggling to survive there seems to be plenty of life and activity here in our Benefice even though sadly, our weekly church numbers do not always reflect this.

The pressures of family life today and weekend family commitments are the main reasons we hear which make it difficult for families to attend the Sunday service. But, as many of you will be aware, church is not confined to just a Sunday service. Being a Christian is about worshipping God and serving others in His name every day in every way and our Church activities continue throughout the week, thanks to the many volunteers who help with pastoral care, study groups or who go into our schools to help with the Christian assemblies, not forgetting all those who serve on the PCCs to keep our church buildings in order and look after the day to day running of Church life.

As a Church we are always looking for new ways to be welcoming and accessible to all, especially when it comes to encouraging the younger members of our parishes to join us. If our churches are to continue to grow in the future, in whatever form, then we need YOU to be on board. If you have had your children baptised, ask yourself why you made this decision. Don't we owe it to our children to help them understand what being a member of the world-wide church really means? The church is shaped by those who use it through each generation. This is now YOUR opportunity to shape for the future.

In September we are going to invite parents and children to come and explore more about their Christian church through new confirmation classes. This is an opportunity for all who feel they have lost touch and to reaffirm the commitment we made to God through our baptisms. If you would like to join us or would like more information about this new children/parent confirmation course, please get in touch with Rev. Pauline Reid 01985 841290.

With love and prayers

Rev Di Britten

Longbridge Deverill Parish Hall

Julie Read who has acted as chairman for our village hall has retired from this role after many, many years of valiant service. We are also losing the services of Julie Walder on the committee. We thank them for all the hard work they have put in over the years. Currently the committee has got vacancies for members of the community to help with organising events. It's really not too time-consuming (we only meet about 3 times a year) and it would be lovely to get some fresh ideas. If you would like to express an interest or just ask for more information please contact acting secretary Dympna Bell on 840514.

DATE FOR DIARIES: Please note the Annual Harvest Supper will be on Saturday 13th October at 7.30 pm in the hall, further details to follow.

The Secret History by Donna Tartt, a modern classic, under the influence of their charismatic classics professor, a group of clever, eccentric misfits at an elite New England college discover a way of thinking and living that is a world away from the humdrum existence of their contemporaries. But when they go beyond the boundaries of normal morality their lives are changed profoundly and for ever. The Burning Chambers by Kate Mosse brings brings sixteenth-century Languedoc vividly to life, a gripping story of love and betrayal, mysteries and secrets; of war and adventure, conspiracies and divided loyalties. In Carcassonne 1562 nineteen-year-old Minou Joubert receives an anonymous letter at her father's bookshop. Sealed with a distinctive family crest, it contains just five words: SHE KNOWS THAT YOU LIVE. Meanwhile, as a long-hidden document threatens to resurface, the mistress of Puivert is obsessed with uncovering its secret and strengthening her power.

Nature Notes

The garden is full of young birds and food disappears fast, the youngsters have no table manners and keeping the feeders relatively clean is never ending. I have seen lots of young goldfinches, they are very noisy and messy. They lack red on the head of the adult which easily tells them apart. We have lots of young blue tits who are constantly calling to the parents. A family of starlings came to the feeders, which is unusual and was lovely to watch, there were 4 youngsters which were quite well grown and feeding for themselves. Young starlings are brown in colour contrasting with the almost black colour with starring, of the adults. There have been a good number of young blackbirds still enjoying the sultanas I have been putting out. There are also lots of young house sparrows equally as messy.

Both green and great spotted woodpeckers are regular visitors. The green one spends time feeding along the edge of the pond, where I know there are ant nests. The great spotted one feeds on the peanuts. I have seen both sexes of both types, they must have active nests nearby. We have a pair of swallows in the stables and I am hoping to see or hear youngsters soon. Both compartments of the artificial house martin nest box appear to be in use, but I have not heard young yet. There have not been many swifts here or in town, I understand nationally their numbers are much reduced this year. All summer migrants will have a shorter breeding period due to the very late spring. Swifts usually leave by the end of August, it takes about 9 weeks before the young fledge, so hopefully they are sitting on eggs now.

In mid May I walked up to Bidcombe Hill through an old wood which has not been touched for years. I was hoping to see the bluebells, I was not disappointed, they were gorgeous. Before reaching them I walked through white ramsons, their onion smell was overpowering. Returning down the hill I was lucky to hear a cuckoo from nearby woods towards Longleat, it is the only time I have heard a cuckoo this year.

We are fortunate to have good numbers of farmland birds around us and I quite often walk around a field nearby and hear and see yellowhammers, corn bunting, skylark, linnet and lesser whitethroat, a summer migrant. The yellow head of the male yellowhammer is like a beacon as it sings "a little bit of bread and no cheese". The corn bunting's song sounds like jangling keys; it is a fairly non-descript brown bird slightly smaller than a blackbird.

The pond is alive with tadpoles at various stages of development and young amphibians climbing out up the ramps. I think they are young toads as they are black, most of the tadpoles are black, but in amongst the writhing mass I have seen light brown amphibians which are frogs. On 'Springwatch' they said toads exude a toxic substance making them unpalatable so they escape being eaten by predators, this explains why there are more toads than frogs.

Cut vegetation cannot be left along the bank and must be appropriately disposed of. If you intend to move the cut weed from the river side to another place of disposal, you will need to register this activity. Please contact the Environment Agency for details. If the weed cut is to be performed in a Site of Special Scientific Interest, you will also need an approval from your local Natural England office (Tel: 0300 060 4628). If you require further information on weed cutting please contact the Environment Agency Customer Contact Centre on 08708 506 506 or visit Environment Agency website: www.environment-agency.gov.uk.
