Dear Friends

I write on a beautiful warm sunny autumn afternoon as the natural world gently unfolds once more, my favourite time of the year. The chickens are going to bed earlier as the nights draw in and their generous laying of eggs will slow down, if not cease altogether, as the light fades. I remember a lovely Maran hen we had when the children were at home; on a particularly dark and gloomy winter's day she decided not to come out of her house at all, I don't blame her.

Remembering is at the heart of church life and as the months pass and we head into winter the seasons of the church's year invite us to give time and space to just that; on October 31st we mark both All Saints Day and All Souls. What picture comes into your mind when you think of a saint I wonder? It would be a mistake to define a saint as someone who never did anything wrong; if you delve a bit deeper you will find many saints led a dissolute, selfish life before having the humility and courage to change their ways, and even then they often got it spectacularly wrong. I am trying to say that saints were not superhuman beings who were never tempted, but normal flesh and blood people, who like us were just trying to do their best in this messy, glorious and totally unpredictable life.

You might be more familiar with All Souls when we remember with love and gratitude those we have loved who are no longer with us. This year St Philip and St James church, Chapmanslade, will be open for the weekend of the 30th and 31st October for people to sit a while to remember a loved one, light a candle or hang a name and prayer on our prayer tree. We are also offering to make small posies of flowers in remembrance of loved ones. These will be put in vases around the church with a card detailing the name of the person to be remembered; there is a small charge of £5 for the flowers. We will have a short All Soul's service at 4.30 pm. Anybody is welcome to request a posy, you do not have to stay for the service; if this is something you would like please contact me.

This year our church family in the Deverills and Horningsham will particularly be remembering with sadness love and gratitude, Mr John Budgen, who for many years served as church organist and LLM. John was a wonderful man who served the church so faithfully and with such humility and dignity; I am most grateful for his commitment and for his friendship and support, he will be very much missed. Our love and prayers are with Janet his widow, daughter Rebecca, grandchildren and many friends.

So to end, enjoy this lovely season and in your remembering, may you be held and comforted by the eternal presence who never leaves us.

Love and prayers,

Pauline

Royal British Legion - Poppy Appeal

This year's Poppy Appeal runs from Thursday 28th October to Sunday 14th November. Your local collector (one of your neighbours) will be calling between those dates. In our local area (Crockerton and the Deverills) you have always been so very generous to the annual Poppy Appeal. We have a network of dedicated volunteers who go door to door round their 'patch' every year; it is they who make it such a success. Most of these have been collecting for many years and a couple have hung up their tins for the final time. We are hoping to find a new volunteer to take over Sylvia Titt's area in Longbridge and another to take on Dry Hill in Crockerton. If you feel you could help (it's just once a year) please get in touch with me. Thank you for your support.

Carol Clough's memorial service

On a gloriously sunny afternoon, Saturday 11th September, we gathered in SS Peter & Paul the Apostles in Longbridge Deverill, to say goodbye and remember a very special lady, Mrs Carol Clough. Shel began working at Crockerton Primary School in 1997 and became Headteacher there in 2008. She sadly passed away on Saturday 21st August after battling ill health for many years. Carol was a dedicated teacher, who considered the school to be her 3rd baby, after her son, Ben and daughter, Alex!

She inspired children and staff by her incredible sense of fun and creative way of teaching. This often included her dressing up as part of the topic or production.

At the service, Neil, her husband, spoke of her love of travelling and her commitment to the school. Carol's generosity supported many pupils on various occasions. Her friends represented her memory with an acrostic poem showing how much she was loved and her outgoing personality. Following the service, many of her family, friends, colleagues, parents and ex-pupils gathered at the George at Longbridge Deverill to reminisce about how much Carol impacted on their lives. Carol will be very much missed throughout the community and will always be remembered. Neil Clough finished by quoting from Dr Seuss, "Don't cry because it's over. Smile because it happened." We certainly will; when we remember Carol, it brings a smile to us all.

Upper Deverills Cricket Club

The Cricket Club has had an enjoyable season of friendly matches with local teams, a mix of evening 20:20s and Sunday limited-over games. We played 11 games, winning 6 and losing 5. Ed Read, our captain, topped the scoring with a 115 not out and the highest batting average (42), with Joe Watts, vice-captain, on an average of 31. Joe topped the bowling performances with 5 wickets for 6 runs in a memorable spell, an average of just over 9 runs. Ned Burton is our outstanding new bowler and fielder, aged 13, taking key wickets in every game he has played. Nineteen fit young men have played for us this year (pictured clockwise): Jamie Fagan, Steve Pearce, Andrew Scott, Ed Read, Henry Stratton, Tom Seymour-Mead, Dan House, Archie Watts, Graham Kitley, Joe Watts, Tim Watts, Ned Burton. Other matches we were joined by: Paul Spinks, Olly Mead, Louis McBride, Toby Hirons, Richie Howard, Hugh Fagan and Julian Allard. We are always looking for players, Joe is off to Scotland and Archie to Portishead. It is friendly cricket and a friendly team; boys and girls are equally welcome. If you have a Deverills connection and are keen, please contact Olly Mead 07836 249310. Finally, a Big Thank You to the Committee, especially Dan and Henry who produced an excellent pitch.

Marie Curie tea

Bridget Beattie would like to thank those who came to the fundraising tea on a sunny August afternoon in the garden for their very generous support, and also to those who were not able to come but gave donations. A total of £340 was raised for this vital charity.

Upper Deverills Village Hall - Autumn Feast

In another step towards normal life, the Autumn Feast took place in the hall on Saturday 11th September. The hall was transformed to a cosy candlelit bistro where over thirty diners enjoyed a wonderful three course meal. The starter was smoked salmon terrine with melba toast followed by an entrée of chicken wrapped in bacon, stuffed with delicious sausage and a rich creamy dauphinoise potato gratin with herby peas and carrots. This was followed by an apple and blackberry nut crumble with custard and lemon mascarpone cream. Delicious. We were able to extend a warm welcome and get to know newcomers to Brixton Deverill, Lorraine and Peter Hardy and to catch up with old friends. A complimentary glass of fizz at the beginning of the evening and coffee and chocolates at the end ensured everyone went home with full tummies and raised spirits as glasses clinked and happy conversation resonated around the hall. Here's to the next one....

Crockerton Village Street Party

The first Saturday of September saw the sun shining and the residents of Crockerton gathering for its long overdue Street party. The village has held a party every year since the millennium; from 2011 (Prince William and Kate's wedding) it has been a Street Party but due to Covid there had not been a party since July 2019.

Approximately 150 adults and teens enjoyed an afternoon of catching up with other villagers, from those who have lived here for 40+ years to the newest ones of 6 weeks. There were drinks of Pimms, Canteen Cowboy beer, plus hot and soft drinks; the village 'chefs' provided a BBQ of hot dogs, homemade burgers and onions. 35 children were entertained by Julian Froggle of Froggle Parties, the youngest resident was 2 weeks old, although I believe he slept through the whole event! Residents were very generous filling the donation bucket with £772, once costs were deducted £308 remained to go towards our defibrillator fund. We would like to thank the Village Committee and partners for organising and the residents of Crockerton who make this village such a wonderful place to live. Planning has started for next year's party which we hope to tie in with the Queen's Platinum Jubilee celebrations.

Get out of the car! – Tranquillity and Darkness in the Deverills

It was a typical Friday night in October and I was driving to Tisbury to meet my daughter and a friend off the London train. As I drove I was listening to music on Radio Wiltshire; between tracks the programme host mentioned something about the International Space Station being visible that evening in South Wiltshire at 9.25pm. I met my passengers and as we drove home we turned on to the Hindon Road for the descent into Monkton Deverill, I glanced at the dashboard; it was 9.24!

I braked suddenly and pulled the car on to the verge. “Get out of the car!” I shouted. “Just get out of the car and look west!”. The girls clearly thought I was mad or that the car was about to explode. I turned off the lights and, together, we looked west towards Mere and Wincanton. It was dark, very dark, the only visible lights were the red lights of the Mendip transmitter in the distance beyond Little Knoll. Then we saw it. Coming towards us in a low orbit was the International Space Station together with the Shuttle with which it was about to dock. So dark was the sky both were clearly visible; so low was the orbit that they moved fast across the sky above us. We were all impressed by a sight we will never forget; not only the combination of the Space Station and Shuttle but also by the glory of the Wiltshire dark sky.

The Cranborne Chase AONB was designated an International Dark Sky Reserve in October 2019, hence residents of the Deverills are urged to embrace and enjoy the darkness. This can be a novel and even scary experience for new residents and visitors. We had relations to stay from London and they were almost traumatised by the silence of the night and the darkness. One confessed the bedroom was so dark she had to sleep with a side-light, the darkness was too scary. The contrast between Hackney and Monkton Deverill was too stark. She missed slamming taxi doors and the noisy pub next door.

During this wonderful summer we have often, with friends and neighbours, walked on the hills as late as 10.00 pm, and relished the darkness, stars and the silence but both are threatened. Cotley Hill roundabout, west of Heytesbury constructed in 1986 as part of the Heytesbury by-pass, at a stroke destroyed the dark skies of Heytesbury, Sutton Veny and Norton Bavant. To this day, there is an ugly glow from the roundabout lights which is at odds with the beauty of Cotley Hill, Scratchbury Hill and Middle Hill. In short, inappropriate lighting should be viewed as environmental pollution. We all have the privilege of living in a Dark Skies Reserve where silence and darkness are valued and preserved. So get out of the car, relish the darkness and listen to the silence!

Richard Cousens

Nature Notes

It happens every year; I suddenly realise the house martins and swallows have gone, the house and garden are quieter and the skies are empty; I had seen flocking together on the wires. It doesn't seem long ago they arrived. As they go other birds will arrive for the winter, redwings and fieldfares should be here in about a month.

We had a redstart in the garden coming to the feeders, a first for us. It is very robin-like but more orangery-red all over. It will be migrating south for the winter having come to breed here in summer. They like to nest in ancient oak woodlands. Another bird I have seen recently, also migrating south for the winter, is the wheatear; a very smart erect looking bird. I have seen them in the fields, not in the garden, as they are an open country species.

The moorhen has taken up residence in the pond and is constantly on the move feeding. On warm sunny days there are dragonflies, it takes notice of them but they are too quick for it. The kingfisher has started visiting the pond again. We had not seen it for a long time and I had not spotted any on the river either but thankfully I am seeing and hearing them regularly again. A little egret made a brief visit but I chased it off just before it tried to spear a fish.

I am still seeing a lovely lot of butterflies. There are more red admirals now with small tortoiseshells and whites; but I haven't seen any peacocks. The buddleia by the side of the house is well in bloom and attracting a lot of insects. I spotted a humming bird hawkmoth on it one day. This morning at the top of the garden, I heard a really loud hum coming from the hedgerow and realised it was the ivy flowers attracting lots of bees and other insects. Ivy is a really important source of food especially as it flowers late in the season. It is also a good place for insects to hibernate. At the moment there are lots of crane flies around, daddy-long-legs.

The hedgerows are changing colour as berries in them ripen, lots of red hawthorn berries which the redwings and fieldfares will enjoy when they arrive. The blackberries and sloes look good too. The beech tree in front of the house is shedding nuts, the ground is covered in them; they are crunchy to walk on.

There are berries in the garden ripening; the pyracantha is laden with fruit and the cotoneaster too, all food for the wildlife during the winter.

The light goes quickly in the evenings now. On a few late evening walks I have seen a kestrel hunting, a roe doe with two well grown fawns feeding on the brow of the hill and a fox coming out to hunt. I quite often hear tawny owls hooting and a heron calling on my return. The heron can sound quite close and as they hunt at night I fear for the fish
