Dear All,

Often when I write this letter I have to think for a while about what to talk about. Not for this June letter when we celebrate and give thanks for Her Majesty the Queen's Platinum Jubilee; an auspicious occasion.

The Queen is the supreme governor of the Church of England; when I was ordained, I was obliged to swear allegiance to her, which I willingly did. The Queen's relationship with the Church of England was symbolised at the Coronation in 1953 when Her Majesty was anointed by the Archbishop of Canterbury and took an oath to "maintain and preserve inviolably the settlement of the Church of England, and the doctrine, worship, discipline and government thereof, ---". In her long reign the Queen has demonstrated that her relationship to the Church of England and her Christian faith mean far more to her than the formal one I referred to above. In her faithful attendance at Sandringham church, in the contents of her Christmas messages and her comments in the face of national or international tragedy, she has demonstrated a deep and lasting personal commitment to the Christian faith. This personal faith was evident even before she was crowned.

"Pray for me ... that God may give me wisdom and strength to carry out the solemn promises I shall be making, and that I may faithfully serve Him and you, all the days of my life." That was the prayer request made by Queen Elizabeth II in her first Christmas broadcast in 1952. These Christmas broadcasts to the Commonwealth are among the few speeches she writes herself. They frequently refer to Jesus Christ; as she said in her broadcast in December 2000: "For me the teachings of Christ and my own personal accountability before God provide a framework in which I try to lead my life".

During the Queen's long reign, she has been inspired by the sacrificial life of Jesus Christ, who said of himself: he 'did not come to be served, but to serve'. In 2008 the Queen said: "I hope that, like me, you will be comforted by the example of Jesus of Nazareth who, often in circumstances of great adversity, managed to live an outgoing, unselfish and sacrificial life ... He makes it clear that genuine human happiness and satisfaction lie more in giving than receiving; more in serving than in being served".

Throughout her long life, Christ's example and teaching have been seen acted out in the dutiful and faithful life of our servant-hearted Queen. I do hope you will join us at our special service to celebrate and give thanks for the Queen's reign 10.00 am on Sunday 5th June at St Peter and St Paul, Longbridge Deverill.

With love and prayers,

Pauline

After many years service Maggi Ratcliffe has stood down as Church Warden. She and Guy deserve our heartfelt thanks for their stewardship of the church in difficult times. Following the APCM there were no volunteers to take over so Robert & Jo Steptoe (Tel. 841396) and Richard & Diana Abbott (Tel. 840763) agreed to take on the role together. The church is open from 10.00 am - 5.00 pm to welcome visitors, tea, coffee, squash and biscuits are available. We are making a concerted effort to make the church and the churchyard as appealing as possible.

The next big event is the Queen's Platinum Jubilee service at 10.00 am on Sunday 5th June when we hope to welcome parishioners from the length of the valley to give thanks for the Queen's long reign. Volunteers to help with flower arranging, putting up bunting etc for this special service are asked to contact Jo Steptoe. Looking further ahead we would love to hear from anyone who is prepared to put in the occasional hour or so helping with flowers, cleaning, lesson reading etc.

The Right Reverend Dr Andrew Rumsey Bishop of Ramsbury

On a recent visit to the island of Guernsey, I discovered that parish boundaries – usually invisible to us apart from as lines on a map or for the influence they exert – are prominently marked, being the principal local arrangement for political, social, and spiritual life. When one crosses a parish boundary along a road, there is, by the wayside a stone boundary marker with a dividing line and the names on either side of the parish one is crossing into. To my great interest, underneath most of these sits an abreuvoir or watering trough, originally for the refreshment of horses en route.

I rather like the idea of a boundary being a place of renewal, an oasis of some kind, because they are often perceived as the opposite, as points of tension and conflict. While regularly abused, boundaries and divisions are a natural, perhaps essential part of human living and affirmed by scripture at many points - including this winsome reference in Psalm 16 verse 6: 'The boundary lines have fallen for me in pleasant places: I have a goodly heritage'. Boundaries remind us that all created life has limits, which are a gift to us as well as a constraint. The task is to use them for enabling encounters with God and neighbour, those who are both alike and unlike ourselves.

The promise of the Holy Spirit, which we celebrate in this fruitful and beautiful season of the year, brings with it an affirmation that our differences are no barrier to God, but blessed by him and the very means by which this life can be experienced as real and personal in every place. May they be for you a goodly heritage.

The next Parish Council meeting 7.30 pm Monday 4th July, all welcome. For further information please contact the clerk. Full minutes and agendas are published on the Parish Council website details on page 14.

Calling all Community Heroes

Longbridge Deverill Parish Council calls on people from all backgrounds and experiences who are passionate about their local area to put themselves forward to become a Councillor. We urgently require enthusiastic and engaged members of the community to join the Council as the number of Councillors will reduce to four over the next few months. This is becoming too low a number for the Council to make decisions and ensure services in the community are met, representing residents' views on planning consultations, maintaining the defibrillator in Longbridge Deverill, allocate grant funding to local groups, continue the movement of speed indicator devices around the Parish, maintain assets like bus shelters and some grass cutting, liaise with the local authority.

There is a vacancy on the Parish Council. Please contact the clerk or any other councillor if you are interested in the role, see page 14.

Parish Plan

The Parish Plan has been accepted by the Parish Council. It will now be published, initially on the Upper Deverills website, and distributed to Wiltshire Council, AONB, etc, for consideration and action as necessary. It is very much a working document and will serve as robust resource for the Parish Council when setting its agenda, and other community groups.

Why not Join the Club!

The valley's 50/50 club is a means of raising funds to help run and preserve our four beautiful valley churches for the benefit of everyone who is fortunate to live here and who appreciate the uniqueness and community spirit of village life, now more important than ever. It is not for raising money for the wider church but for the indirect benefit of all who live in the valley. Each club member pays £24 per year and the proceeds are divided 50/50 with half going to support the churches and half given as prizes, currently £50 and £25 every month, with extra prizes at Christmas. Winners' names are published monthly in the Parish News. Last year over £1000 was raised for the churches and a similar amount was given as prizes. Joining details can be found in the churches or contact Diana Abbott for details: 840763 / decabbott@gmail.com.

Nature Notes

All the birds are very busy at the moment attending to young. We have got 2 boxes with great tits, who are very noisy, so it won't be long before they fledge, and another 2 with blue tits. The swallows in the stables have really got on with things quickly this year. Having arrived on the 10th April and repaired the existing nest, they now have young; I saw a broken egg shell on the floor last Thursday, 12th May, and today I could see a head poking out over the edge of the nest. I have just checked, they take 19 to 25 days to fledge, so it will be about 2 weeks before the young start flying. They practice flying in the safety of the stable itself where there is a cane across one corner for them to perch on, also a good strong beam above. The house martins are busy too, and both compartments of the dual nest box are now taken. The 'detached' box which hasn't been up for so many years is, as far as I am aware, empty but there is still plenty of time for that to change. I had not seen any swifts but then driving back from town on Monday I spotted 2 flying around chasing one another near the biodigester plant. Later that day we drove through Mere and I spotted 3 flying around over the town. Mere being an old town always has good numbers. Yesterday and today, I was delighted to hear and see a pair flying just above me when I was in the garden; they were very high up so I don't know if they will nest in the village. Our swift box has once again been taken over by house sparrows, I could hear cheeping coming from it today when I was standing below.

I have not heard a cuckoo this year, perhaps I have just not been in the right place. My osteopath, who lives near Salisbury in the Avon valley, has been hearing them every day for a month now and spotted a pair one day.

The number of tadpoles has dwindled, it is now a case of 'spot the tadpole'. The mallards Hoover them up and the little egret (though it goes for the goldfish mainly, the bigger the better) and the moorhens are back who eat them too. I think the moorhens are nesting in amongst the yellow flag irises at the top of the pond. Most of the time we see one bird which must be the male, but occasionally catch sight of another that scurries back into the undergrowth; the female to sit on the nest. The male has become more aggressive, a sure sign of a nest to protect, it even took on our resident cock pheasant, we have named George, one evening. It stood as tall as it could to look poor George in the eye and managed to chase the bewildered pheasant away.

I am relieved it finally rained; soft gentle rain to soak the ground first before raining more heavily. Nothing grows without rain, birds that probe the ground for food, blackbird, thrush and starling, were having problems.
