Dear All,

I recently travelled to the US to visit my youngest daughter and family, I had not been for 3 years for obvious reasons, so I was really delighted to be able to go. I love New York, and Brooklyn where my daughter lives, is about as different to our villages as you could possibly get. It is noisy; JFK airport is only 30 minutes away so the sound of aeroplanes escaping the city is a constant background noise, add to that the sound of tyres on tarmac and the ever-present sound of sirens and you get the picture. Space is another issue; the shops, houses, apartments coffee bars, and other places are crammed into every inch of available space, although there is a beautiful park near my daughter's apartment with paths through the woods and a lake. So after a week I was beginning to miss the countryside I/we take so much for granted and as the time to come home approached I was desperate for some quiet and the sight of the downs and fields that surround us here.

Time away from home and our nearest and dearest can really change our mindset as to how we relate to our surroundings in terms of our families and the context in which we live; towards the end of my stay in New York I swore I would never moan about English weather again, rain makes the countryside so verdant and green.

The corollary to all this is the temptation to look back at past times and bemoan that 'things were different then', meaning, they were infinitely better. It always makes me laugh when I read the bible story of the Israelites escaping their captivity in Egypt. Initially they are relieved and grateful to be free from slavery, but then the moaning starts and they say to Moses: "Why did you bring us out of Egypt? Did you bring us out here in the desert to die? We could have died peacefully in Egypt; there were plenty of graves in Egypt. We told you this would happen! In Egypt we said, 'Please don't bother us. Let us stay and serve the Egyptians.' It would have been better for us to stay and be slaves than to come out here and die in the desert."

A yearning for past times and incessantly looking ahead to what we hope will be better times, both result in the same thing; we fail to appreciate this moment, this person, this gift of life in all its fullness today. Of course, hope is important, but as we move into these glorious summer months, let us make sure we give thanks for the extraordinary 'now' of our existence with all it has to offer us.

With love and prayers, Pauline

Lammas service - St Mary's, Kinston Deverill

10.30 am Sunday 14th August

At this service we will be doing something a bit different. Lammas comes from Old English meaning 'loaf mass'. In early Christianity, the first grain offerings and loaves of the year were blessed in church. Celebrations included beer recognising the importance of barley. We will be giving thanks for the first harvesting of grain and offering loaves for blessing; then eating them after the service with lots of butter and jam! Please come to this short service to celebrate Lammastide; if you can bake a loaf of bread to bring that would be lovely but not essential, just bring yourself.

Platinum Jubilee Celebrations – Crockerton

Sunday 5th June saw Crockerton hosting their jubilee street party of fun and friendship to celebrate the Queen's dedication to communities of the United Kingdom and the Commonwealth. Many houses were adorned with flags and bunting and a huge street party banner had been made by Tracey McDermott. The village committee laid on a barbecue, whilst Pimm's and a keg of beer flowed and the Great British cuppa! For pudding villagers held a Great British Bake Off style competition. They were asked to prepare a 'right royal' themed bake. Entries did not disappoint, with show-stopping tiered cakes, delicate cupcakes, trifles and brownies all vying to win. The winners received a certificate and apron from 'Think outside the box' haberdashers of Warminster. The three winning cakes were: a chocolate, gluten free cake adorned with more chocolate and fruit, made by Beatrix; a multi layered Oreo caked topped with an iced crown, made by Bethany; a layered cake of sponge, lemon curd, lemon and raspberry jelly, iced in regal purple meringue buttercream, topped off with a chocolate deconstructed Union Flag on top, made by Stuart.

Maureen Hinton put on a show of her own by sharing an extensive collection of memorabilia relating the long history of the villages surrounding Warminster. It included photos of distant relatives, heirlooms and maps of the villages, then and now. Maureen is keen to show off this collection again at the Bath Arms Crockerton when the pub reopens after long-awaited renovations.

Villagers gathered at 3.00 pm to sing the national anthem while a drone flew overhead taking an historic picture for the village archives. Afterwards children were kept amused by a children's entertainer, funded by grant donation from the Parish Council. The rain did not deter village revellers who kept dry under a collection of gazebos, 24 hours later everything was back to normal but the memory of the historic event remains in mind, print and photo.

A Celebration of the Life and Work of John Budgen

4.30 pm Sunday 11th September
St. Mary's, Kingston Deverill

Andrew Scott of Harrison & Harrison, the Organ Builders, recorded the Celebration which was held in the City Church of St. Margaret Lothbury on Thursday 21st April 2022. It was greatly enjoyed by John's friends and family, organists and organ builders who came together to honour John. With Andrew's kind permission we shall present his film at St. Mary's. John led the team which re-created the much-altered 1801 organ at St Margaret's, restoring it to its former glory, it was one of John's greatest achievements. The film runs for under an hour, afterwards there will be cakes and bubbles and an opportunity to reminisce.

Platinum Jubilee Celebrations - Longbridge Deverill

On Sunday 5th June, the day began with a lovely service held at St Peter & St Paul's, Longbridge Deverill. Many residents from the Deverills valley attended the service and the church was beautifully decorated with flowers. At the end of the service, we all raised a glass of bubbly to toast the Queen, accompanied by delicious cakes.

The afternoon celebrations began at 2.30 pm with the Parish Picnic in the field by The George with super music played by Tim, Ben and Laura Steer. There was a pudding competition, which was deservedly won by Annabel Kettler. We were also honoured by a Ukrainian family who are living locally and enjoyed not only singing our National Anthem to the Queen, but also listening to the Ukrainian National Anthem in solidarity with our new Ukrainian friends. The afternoon was slightly shortened by some torrential rain, but all in all it had been a wonderful day of celebrations. Many thanks to everyone who made the day so special.

The Wylde Valley Art Trail goes Platinum!

In this special Jubilee year, the organisers and participants past and present of the Wylde Valley Art Trail are thrilled beyond measure to receive the Queen's Award for Voluntary Service (QAVS) 2022. This award was created in 2002 to celebrate The Queen's Golden Jubilee, and in this Platinum Jubilee year the Wylde Valley Art Trail has struck more than gold by receiving the highest award a local voluntary group can receive in the UK. The award, the MBE of the voluntary sector, is a massive honour: only 244 local charities, social enterprises and voluntary groups across the whole of the UK have received the award this year.

The Wylde Valley Art Trail is an entirely artist-run Open Studios event, running every other year in this most beautiful corner of Wiltshire, the next one taking place 29th April – 7th May 2023. Over the 22 years of the Trail's existence it has launched and augmented the careers of hundreds of artists – painters, sculptors, woodturners, jewellers, potters and many, many other types of makers – as well as bringing joy to the thousands of visitors that the Trail attracts. The platinum award for a voluntary group in the Platinum Jubilee year: the Wylde Valley Art Trail couldn't have done better!

Wessex Water Work

Wessex Water is planning to carry out water main replacement works on the B3095 and various other roads in Kingston Deverill and Monkton Deverill. It is planned for work to start on Monday 5th September 2022 and may last for up to 29 weeks. Due to the narrow nature of the highway it is likely the B3095 will need to be closed to any through traffic. The section of the B3095 where the main will be replaced is from Kingston Deverill Church to 91 Monkton Deverill (BA12 7EU). A road closure will be required separately for each road. Wessex Water will be conducting an open day to give more details and answer questions about the work and the implications for residents. This event is your opportunity to raise any concerns you may have about access or continuity of supply during the work. Wessex Water have made it clear they want to be as accommodating as possible during the work. This event will be take place in Upper Deverills Hall on Tuesday 9th August from 10.00 am to 8.00 pm.

The next Parish Council meeting will be on Wednesday 13th July at 7.00 pm in the village hall, please see page 14 and the website for further information.

Nature Notes

As I suspected we now have moorhen chicks. I spotted the first bundle of black fluff on Tuesday 31st May, when it came out of the irises to meet one of the adults that had just been out of the pond collecting food. The following day I counted four chicks, and increased to five by Friday 3rd June, and then to six over the week-end, but one of the chicks I could see was rather frail. We had heavy rain on that Sunday evening and from then on there have only been five. All five are doing well, though you can see a difference in size between them, they are now coming out of the pond onto the lawn greatly increasing the risk of predation. The parents are very good at chasing any unwanted visitors away; little egret, crows, pigeons, doves, blackbirds, all get moved on! The adults adopt an arrow-like missile shape and home in on the target running at them at great speed. I certainly would not want to be on the end of an attack. We have several new cats in the area which have been coming into the garden and they have shown interest in the moorhen chicks. The chicks have remained safe on the water so far, but now as they venture out of the pond, I fear things will be rather different. This is the third time, I think, that we have had nesting moorhens, but this is the first time the nest has become visible and we can watch the goings on. I think they may well be considering a second brood.

The swallows have done well and Clive was lucky to catch sight of five youngsters sitting on the pole across the corner of the stable on the 1st June, and the following day I saw four in the same position. I think she is now sitting on the second clutch of eggs. I first heard cheeping noises coming from the house martin boxes at the front of the house late last Wednesday evening when it was nice and still and quiet. Yesterday when I was in town early afternoon I was really pleased to hear and see a small group of swifts flying around, chasing each other and screaming.

The sultanas and live mealworms are still being readily taken. I have a male blackbird at the back of the garage that comes for sultanas; I can recognise him as he looks as if he is wearing spectacles (pale around the eyes); he regularly takes four sultanas at a time. I also have a very friendly robin who loves the mealworms and is very cheeky, taking them from the tray where I store them if I have not been quick enough to put some out for him.

Finally, I did hear a cuckoo on the 28th May; it called again and again on that Saturday evening for maybe half an hour but that was it.

Upper Deverills Platinum Jubilee Celebrations 2nd - 5th June

Beacon Lighting & Big Sunday Lunch

The Platinum Jubilee was a time of national celebration and thanksgiving and the Upper Deverills marked the occasion with style. The evening of the Beacon lighting opened with a bonfire and a fabulous feast at the Village Hall; Ollie and Lucy Nohl-Oser worked the barbecue tirelessly as the Hall Committee rushed off for more supplies.

Many people made the climb up to the beacon and others received a welcome lift from the Stratton family. The weather was perfect and the sense of occasion highlighted by Hamish Blair, the piper, as the beacon was lit by Sir Roger Wheeler. Against the crackling of the fire and flickering shadows many of us took a moment to pause, say our own private thanks, and reflect on the quiet beauty of the valley. The magic of the evening continued with a moving Jubilee poem written and narrated by Paul Thomas. An awe-inspiring choir of local talent, led by Eve McBride, entranced us with a piece from Benjamin Britten's Gloriana and Kevin McBride read the Queen's Coronation speech. A truly memorable evening.

Seldom is the great British weather on our side, but Sunday 5th June was one such occasion when the rain held off for the Big Sunday Lunch. The village hall was transformed with plates of delicious food, it seemed the whole valley had contributed to the feast; everything looked so celebratory with red and white checked table cloths. The kitchens of Committee members had been busy for hours conjuring up huge quantities of mouth-watering slow-roasted pork. With bubbly and beer provided, the feast began to the energising live music of 'Amps and Tramps' joined by Tim Watts. There were activities for children and dressing-up photo opportunities courtesy of John and Pam Lea, Sarah and Richie Howard. Just as everyone was feeling replete a call arose to join in the Morris dancing, under the expert tuition of Phil Preen of White Horse Morris, brave volunteers took to the grass with bells and sticks.

Grateful Thanks: These magical, memorable community moments could not happen without hard work and dedication of local residents. Huge thanks go to everyone involved in the planning of this perfect Jubilee Celebration, and to all who mucked in on the day to make the events so successful. Special thanks to the Village Hall Committee who worked for months to organise this celebration, from the early days of gaining funding from the Parish Council to the logistics of the final days. Absolute Stars!
